A WHIMSICAL FANTASY OF ENGLISH FLORALS - HOUGHTON by Warwick

OVERVIEW: A whimsical floral fantasy, HOUGHTON is a Warwick Naturally fabric that is a printed interpretation of a Jacobean design. Named after the historical Houghton Hall in Norfolk UK, this elegant fabric can be used to create classical style drapery with a 17th century touch, and upholstery, whether it's an exquisite sofa or ottoman for a quaint aesthetic.

- DESIGN: Inspired by historical Jacobean design, HOUGHTON is printed on a versatile dry textured base cloth comprising of natural cotton and linen. The detailed design features stylized winding branches, exotic flowers and fruit, with a snake-like meandering tree trunk referencing the Indian Tree of Life, in a hand painted aesthetic.
- APPLICATION: Dual-purpose in nature, HOUGHTON can be used to create elegant drapery in a sophisticated sitting room, as well as unique sofas, statement cushions and ottomans. As a Warwick Naturally fabric, it offers a natural, vintage and relaxed feel, making it ideal in creating a traditional residential or general commercial interior.
- COLOURWAYS: HOUGHTON offers a selection of five muted jewel tones. Verdigris features gorgeous teal and green tones which are complemented by a highlight of berry, while Saffron takes on a softer, more earthy and ochre colourway with stormy grey tones and a muted yellow ground. Jubilee is a standout in this collection, exhibiting a striking sky blue ground with beautiful berry highlights. For a darker colourway and neutral option, Sienna embodies terracotta hues with a blush undertone. And lastly, Ink, a navy blue with grey tones and natural linen grounds, making it versatile.
- RATING: A Warwick Naturally fabric, HOUGHTON is suited to both drapery and upholstery — perfect for creating quaint couches, occasional chairs and ottomans, vintage drapery and lampshades. Its flourishing floral pattern design will bring an elegant aesthetic to both residential and general commercial interiors alike.
